

March (of the Panigales)

Dispatch

Newsletter coming in late. If last month's intro felt frantic, know that I feel frantic writing this one. First Thursday meetup at Rogue is happening as I type this sentence. No really, I'm sitting at Rogue right now with Patryk looking over my shoulder and Nick to my left. Hi Nick! Hi Patryk! 🙌

Not even going to get this proof-read by Tamer before smashing send and hoping I don't accidentally link you all to FeetFinder or something (don't google that if you don't know—but if you DO know, any posing/content tips will be accepted). That's how the writing is happening this month — spitting a stream of consciousness like a radiator with a rock in it: hot, wet, and unwanted.

Onward!

In this issue:

- February Recap
- Merch Sizing Survey
- Monthly Events
- Kevin's magical fingers do more than fix your bikes
- Music
- and more!

RECAP

Still reading? Last month was cold, wet, and largely unwanted—but that didn't stop us from having fun. And while the last few days have finally brought some sun—Mother Nature is probably lying, and there's at least a 50/50 chance we'll get one last bout of ice.

We kicked February in the pants with a 2nd Sunday Field Trip to the Evergreen Air and Space Museum, basking in precision engineering, carbon fiber, and machined magnesium. Eight of us took over a Wilderness First Aid class with Adventure Medics, mastering the Baywatch run (slow-mo included). Motocorsa made time for a "Bikes and Brews" night with Master Tech Kevin, giving riders a solid primer on basic bike maintenance.

And, of course, we celebrated the return of MotoGP (no spoilers!) with the season opener in Thailand—local GP fans gathering at Gigantic Brewing in SE Portland to take it all in.

MERCH

THE FINISH LINE

If the Track Day and Save the Date sections look like last months that's because they are and I left them there in the template. It's lazy AND on purpose, but all the info is still relevant.
